Repository Exemption Notice

Thank you for your interest in CDC-developed source code. This repository has been marked as exempt from public or inter-agency code sharing under the SHARE IT Act.

This exemption may apply for several reasons, including but not limited to legal restrictions (e.g., HIPAA or FOIA exclusions), national security considerations, internal agency system support, or the absence of any actual source code in the repository.

Due to legal, security, or policy restrictions, the source code for this repository is not available for distribution or collaboration outside of the CDC at this time.

If you believe you have a compelling need for this code or have further questions regarding this exemption, please contact us at:

Sincerely,

CDC Office of the Chief Information Officer
